DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-7 are allowed.

Examiner's Reasons for Allowance

The instant application is a divisional of U.S. Application No. 09/682,431 (filed on 08/31/2000) and a continuation-in-part of U.S. Application No. 09/517,415 (filed on 03/02/2000).

The claims are directed to a computer implemented method for transmitting electronic voice messages. A first e-mail address has a distinct prefix address and a domain address. Both a primary telephone number and an extension to the primary telephone number are established, where the extension contains alphanumeric characters identical to the distinct prefix address. A call is placed to the primary telephone number and extension. In response, a text-to-speech synthesizer is established wherein email messages sent to the first email address are synthesized into computer-generated speech. A voice digitizing means is established wherein reply messages spoken to the primary telephone number and extension are converted into an audio computer file and transmitted to a second email address as an email attachment.

The closest prior art of record is U.S. Patent No. 6775359 to Ron et al. Ron teaches of replying to an incoming e-mail by voice (Fig. 3). However, Ron fails to disclose the narrow feature where, in order to reply to the incoming e-mail, a call is placed to a primary telephone number and an extension, where the extension contains alphanumeric characters identical to the distinct prefix address.

The remaining prior of record fails to teach or fairly suggest the obviousness of substantially modifying Ron in order to arrive at the invention as claimed in detail by the applicant.

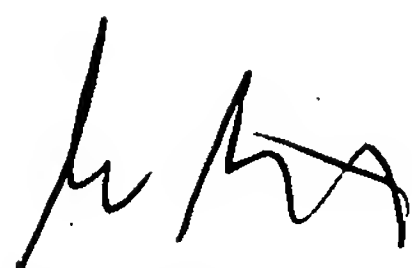

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
